Product Concept Create and develop a more perfect storage and transportation system that is safer, more integrated, and more intelligent, so that medical care can be integrated. Create a low carbon ecology, create a reasonable medical space management organization, and make the medical environment safer and more humane.

Fine Precision Lean Management

○ Medical Background

○ The storage of all kinds of medicine and instruments has strict warehouse management regulations. With basic storage and transfer faclilties, such as shelves, rays, cabinets, etc delicacy management faciities are deficient.

○ The standardization degree of storage facities is diferent, Diferent departments have large diferences and inconvenient for unified management.

○ Storage efficiency and sorting efficiency still need to be improved.

○ Part of the storage product structure is old, the internal structure is complicated, not easy to clean and disinfect.

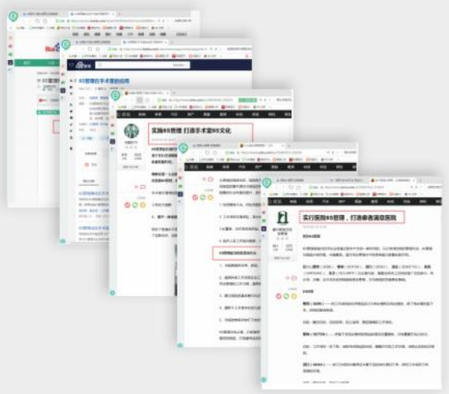

○ 6S

○ To meet the storage and transfer requirement of all functional departments of the hospital Help to realize 6S management of the hospital.

○ Reduce the waste of storage,transfer. Multi-module combination to enhance product features and compatibiity,easy to clean.

○ More care for health care, saving the labor ofmedical staff.

○ Focusing on low carbon ecology, we choose environmentally friendly painting powders.

○ Create and develop a well organized storage and transportation system,which is safer, more harmonious and more intelligent.

○ Create a low-carbon ecology and a rational medical space management organization, and make the medical care environment safer and more humanized.

Warehouse Overall Solution

○ Orbital Modular Rack Solution

The intensive track-type combined rack can be designed as three columns or two columns in one row, or multiple rows. The fixed rack and the mobile rack are used in combination. With the upper guide rail, each row can slide horizontally in the track to achieve the maximum storage capacity in the effective space. It is the better choice for operating rooms and supply rooms.
